

HAC Alert Update

Dear Valued Customer,

We have become aware of an application marketed as “easyHAC”, which is available in the iTunes store. The iTunes description of easyHAC is as follows:

easyHAC is the cheaper, more advanced alternative to other existing Home Access Center Apps. It allows both students and parents to view the Home Access Center (HAC), which contains information pertaining to things such as grades and attendance. All data is retrieved directly from the Home Access Center website as if you were using a browser.

We would like to make you aware that easyHAC is neither provided by, nor endorsed by PowerSchool (formerly SunGard) or Springfield School District, and we cannot make any assurances regarding the security of any information provided to the third party provider of easyHAC.

Because PowerSchool is not affiliated with the third party provider of easyHAC, anyone who provides their PowerSchool Home Access Center credentials would not be protected by PowerSchool’s data security policies, procedures, and technology. Any information provided to the third party provider of easyHAC is at the user’s own risk.

We are concerned that students and parents may think that easyHAC is offered by PowerSchool. Accordingly, we ask you to communicate with your parents and students to let them know that easyHAC is not a PowerSchool product and that any PowerSchool Home Access Center information provided to a third party provider is at their own risk.

Please don’t hesitate to contact us with any questions or if you need any further information at parentportal@ssdcougars.org.

Thank you,
Springfield School District
